Mental Health Education Series for Faith Community Leaders presented by the Interfaith Counseling Center and Bradley Hospital

October 10, 2018 (12:00pm-3:00pm)

Suicide: Screening, Prevention and Response

Presenter: Kim Lafountain, LMHC; Scott Sylvester, LMHC

Location: Bradley Learning Exchange, 1 Catamore Boulevard, East Providence, Rhode Island 02914

The Bradley Learning Exchange will be offering a 3 hour training on the evidenced based Columbia-Suicide Severity Rating Scale (C-SSRS) Screener. The C-SSRS supports suicide risk assessment through a series of simple, plain-language questions that anyone can ask. The answers help users identify whether someone is at risk for suicide. This training will help participants become comfortable with asking one of the most difficult questions to ask. It will also review available resources that participants can use to help an at-risk person in their community. The C-SSRS screener is suited for use by family members, friends, and others who have a personal relationship with the individual who may be at risk.
